“How are they to call on one in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in one of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without someone to proclaim him? And how are they to proclaim him unless they are sent? As it is written, ‘How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!’”

How beautiful are the feet of those who bring Good News.
INTRODUCTION

In November of 1990 the Bishops of the Archdiocese/Dioceses of Louisville, Owensboro, Covington, and Lexington approved the recommendation for Statewide Guidelines by the Catholic Conference of Kentucky Education Committee for Religious Education.

The specific aim and purpose in developing The Statewide Guidelines for Religious Education is to give direction, unity, consistency and credibility for religious education across the state of Kentucky. These guidelines reflect lifelong catechesis in faithfulness to the Church’s traditions and beliefs. They are designed on a life continuum basis, early childhood through adult. These guidelines, likewise, recognize and affirm the critical role of the catechist in the teaching mission of the Church, and all that this includes, in union with the leadership of the bishop of the diocese.

Returning to the Guidelines in 1998, the Diocesan Directors created a video/guide for parish directors to implement the Guidelines with parents and catechists. Age-specific skills are included to expand the original core concepts.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A special note of thanks and acknowledgment to the following persons who devoted time and energy in the original (1992) publication of these Statewide Guidelines for Religious Education: Diocesan Directors of Religious Education—Mrs. Sue Grenough (Archdiocese of Louisville), Sister Kathy Gallo, OSU (Diocese of Owensboro), Sister Stella M. Gough, OSB (Diocese of Covington), and Sr. Emily Ann Appleton, SCN (Diocese of Lexington); to diocesan consultants; diocesan committees; to the more than thirty readers of the content; to Mrs. Clare Quigley, typist; and to Ms. Monica Krampe, artist.

Those responsible for the 1998 revision included Mrs. Sue Grenough (Archdiocese of Louisville), Sr. Kathy Gallo, OSU (Diocese of Owensboro), Sr. Stella M. Gough, OSB (Diocese of Covington) and Mr. Patrick Guentert (Diocese of Lexington). Thanks are also due to the readers and consultants, Ms. Marian West, typist, and Ms. Monica Krampe, artist.
OUR CALL TO MISSION

The mission of Jesus, to bring about the realization of God’s presence, is continued in the life of the Church through worship, word, community and service. Catechesis refers to all those activities that enable people to grow in their personal faith life within a community of faith (NCD, 32-33). Catechesis is a lifelong process that aims to make the faith of each individual real, meaningful and alive through instruction, community experience, prayer and social action. Religious education, integral to the catechetical process, proclaims and teaches God’s Word and our faith tradition in order that faith might be enlivened and nurtured.
THE CATECHIST

The strength of a religious education program is in the person of the catechist. The catechist participates in the responsibility of the faith community to instruct others in the faith. Faith, however, is taught more by lived example than by word. Therefore, men and women of deep faith, committed to prayer and scripture, are called as catechists to share faith with others, thus providing leadership in the area of religious education.

As a lifelong learner the catechist:
- becomes informed in the faith and acquires the necessary skills to communicate the gospel message
- is open to a growing knowledge of Catholic doctrine, scripture, relational skills, and teaching methods
- remains current on contemporary church and social issues.
CATECHIST FOR THE YOUNG LEARNER

Specifically, the catechist for the young child is one who....

♦ is enthusiastic, spontaneous, full of wonder
♦ is patient, understanding, loving, forgiving
♦ is able to speak naturally and simply about God
♦ is positive in affirming others
♦ sees God in all creation and has a keen sense of the sacredness of all life
♦ loves and enjoys children

In relation to this age learner, the catechist....

♦ assists parents in modeling the faith
♦ shares faith on an affective level
♦ knows that visible demonstrations of faith are very important
♦ is sensitive to varieties of cultural and family backgrounds
♦ is able to use the elements of everyday experience, such as air, fire water and light as basic teaching tools
♦ provides concrete experience, active involvement and constant encouragement
CATECHIST FOR THE YOUNG LEARNER  (contd.)

★ fosters a sense of self-awareness essential to faith-growth

★ recognizes normal patterns of growth both physical and developmental

★ fosters a sense of belonging

★ develops in the child a positive sense of God

★ provides opportunities to learn about God and God’s creation through all the senses

★ develops spirituality through experiences of liturgy, prayer and gesture

★ emphasizes stories about Jesus’ love for us and our call to do God’s will and to care for and love each other.
SPECIAL LEARNING NEEDS

As catechists we recognize and affirm the uniqueness of each individual person, regardless of what pathway leads most directly to their minds, hearts or souls.

It is our unifying goal to make our religious education programs accessible to all persons and we look for creative ways to address the individual and special needs of all learners. We ask the question, “What gifts can the person with special needs offer our program?” as well as “What can we do for the person with special needs?”

John Paul II, in his statement on the millennium spoke of “not just an inner joy but a jubilation which is manifested outwardly, for the coming of God is also an outward, visible, audible and tangible event...It is thus appropriate that every sign of joy...should have its own outward expression.” When we, as catechists, present these “signs of joy” in a variety of ways, truly the blind see, the deaf hear and the mentally disabled witness the concrete signs of God’s presence in our midst.

In doing so we open our doors to those with particular learning needs, working in partnership with those with disabilities, their families and others who are knowledgeable about the most effective strategies. We can use these strategies to modify and expand our outreach for the inclusion of all persons within the loving circle of our parishes.

It is the responsibility of the faith community to identify and provide for the religious education of all peoples. Catechesis for those who are cognitively, sensorily or physically disabled will find guidance in a current comprehensive resource, Opening Doors to People with Disabilities: Volume I: A Pastoral Manual, and the background materials included in its 1,400 page second volume, published in loose-leaf format to allow for ease of copying and training purposes. This resource is available from the National Catholic Office For Persons With Disabilities, P.O. Box 29113, Washington, D.C. 20017, (202) 529-2933 (v/tty), (202)529-4678 (fax). Also available are guides for modifying those catechetical materials most commonly used within our parishes. (cf. Resource Page)
CULTURAL DIVERSITY

The Church has a long and rich history of valuing cultural diversity despite persons and times when sensitivity appeared lacking. Note this statement from the Fourth Lateran Council of 1215: “Since in many places within the same city or diocese people of various languages are mingled, possessing under one faith a variety of rites and customs, we firmly order that bishops of such cities and dioceses provide suitable men who according to the diversities of rituals and languages will perform for them the divine ministries and celebrate the sacraments, instructing them both by word and example” (cited by Pius XII in the apostolic constitution Exsul familia §653). In more recent times, popes since Leo XIII have responded to the needs of a world-wide Church in writings on peoples and, especially, on evangelization. Catholic social thought from John XXIII onward has insisted that true and full humanity is achieved only through culture.

Based on these teachings, the National Catechetical Directory, Sharing the Light of Faith, §194 urges catechists and catechetical leaders to be culturally sensitive:

♦ By being able to distinguish among sub-groups within larger groups. For example, the Spanish-speaking, while sharing a common language, include Mexican Americans, Puerto Ricans, Cubans, and others from South and Central America, each group with its distinct cultural characteristics, customs, needs, and potential.

♦ By preparing catechists from the particular racial, cultural, or ethnic group where possible or, at least, employing catechists who understand and empathize with the group.

♦ By using the language of the group being catechized where at all possible. This would include not just the vocabulary but the thought patterns, cultural idioms, customs, and symbols represented by such a language.

♦ By avoiding unrealistic demands on time, physical resources and finances of a particular ethnic group and by making adjustments which correspond to the educational level of those being catechized without shadow of condescension.

♦ By taking into account a group’s special needs in relation to justice and peace, and preparing its members to assume their responsibility for achieving just goals.

Finally, even in culturally homogeneous areas and parishes, catechesis should be mutli-cultural. All persons should be educated to know and respect the gift that cultural, racial, and ethnic diversity offers.
CHARACTERISTICS OF THE YOUNG LEARNER

The child at this level

♦ is developing a greater degree of initiative
♦ is becoming more refined with motor skills
♦ has a limited attention span
♦ is improving in physical coordination
♦ enjoys playing with other children
♦ has an active imagination
♦ learns intuitively through stories
♦ is self-centered
♦ is explorative
♦ is accepting of what one is taught about God
♦ experiences God’s love communicated primarily through parents and family members, e.g., grandparents, brothers, sisters, etc.
♦ learns concretely.

NEEDS OF THE YOUNG LEARNER

The child at this level is

♦ to be valued as person
♦ to have successful experiences
♦ to have freedom to achieve independence while learning the value of interdependence
♦ to develop a healthy self-esteem
♦ to establish a trust relationship with God
♦ to receive assistance in feeling able to cope with the unfamiliar or frightening in his/her world
♦ to experience group and family prayer
♦ to receive encouragement
♦ to learn in an atmosphere of trust and acceptance that helps establish a basis for moral development.
IMPLICATIONS FOR TEACHING

COMMUNITY
Develop in the child a positive sense of God through:
♦ experience with the faith community
♦ warm atmosphere of love and acceptance
♦ partnership with the family
♦ positive learning environment within the parish.

INSTRUCTION
Provide opportunities to learn about God and God's creation through:
♦ using all the senses
♦ developing a positive self-image in relationship to the Creator
♦ revering all living things
♦ creating positive experiences leading to religious concepts.

PRAYER
Prepare the learner to participate in celebrations of the Church through:
♦ developing the spirituality that is already within the child
♦ experiencing simple heart prayers, songs, gestures, spontaneous praise and thanksgiving
♦ practicing liturgical prayer forms.

SOCIAL ACTION
Begin the conscious living of the gospel message through:
♦ developing a loving relationship with Jesus
♦ emphasizing Jesus’ love for all people
♦ stressing the need to care for and love each other
♦ protecting Christian values, attitudes, and behaviors.
EDUCATION IN HUMAN SEXUALITY

“The ultimate object of education in human sexuality is the personal realization of total sexual identity and the affective maturation of the person.” (HUMAN SEXUALITY: A Catholic Perspective for Education and Lifelong Learning, p.75)

The document Human Sexuality encourages “ongoing formation in human sexuality not only for children and adolescents but also for all people, particularly during major transitions in life (e.g., puberty, moving away from home, engagement/marriage, parenthood, middle age, retirement, divorce or widowhood, ordination/religious vows, aging, serious illness).” (HS, p.5)

In these Guidelines, religious education and education in human sexuality are to be integrated. Instruction in human sexuality education is to be taught from a values-based perspective, rooted in Christian faith.

Education in human sexuality, in the Church’s tradition, fosters family values and respect for the dignity of the human person, stresses personal responsibility, promotes wholesome relationships, and recognizes the demands of parenting.

The responsibility of the catechist is to enable the learner to internalize the beauty and sacredness of human sexuality. Through this conscience formation, the learner is able to apply these Christian values and morals to the challenge of everyday life.

…Male and Female God created them.
CORE CONCEPTS FOR LIFELONG FORMATION

In lifelong religious education learners make their faith in God real, meaningful, and alive through instruction, community experience, liturgical and personal prayer, and social action. The Nicene Creed, the National Catechetical Directory and the Catechism of the Catholic Church identify the following core concepts as the doctrinal basis for lifelong religious education. To foster mature faith in individuals and community, the Christian message must be presented in its entirety, while recognizing a certain hierarchy of truths. There are four central truths from which all other truths flow and by which they are illumined.

These four central truths are:

- The Mystery of God, Creator of All Things
- The Mystery of Christ, the Incarnate Word of God
- The Mystery of the Holy Spirit, the Loving Presence of God
- The Mystery of the Church, the People of God.

Related to these truths, there are core concepts that are of a formational and transformational nature. These move the learner to appropriate and live out the Christian message:

- God Teaches Us How to Live Out Our Salvation
- God Invites Us into Relationship through Personal Prayer and through Community Worship
- God Calls Us to Love and Serve Our Neighbor.

All core concepts are to be applied in age-appropriate ways at every age level of learning. The Core Concepts and their specific categories with age appropriate skills for the learner are outlined on the following pages. Teaching strategies vary with the developmental level of the learner and may be found in diocesan recommended published materials. These core concepts provide for authentic religious education in any program, test or model adopted for use.
CORE CONCEPTS WITH SPECIFIC CATEGORIES

I. The Mystery of God, Creator of All Things.
   1. Demonstrates an understanding of God as creator of all things.
   2. Understands the human person as imaging God.
   3. Recognizes the inter-connectedness of humans with all creation.
   4. Recognizes the call to continuing creation by further developing the Kingdom of God.

II. The Mystery of Christ, the Incarnate Word of God.
   1. Articulates an understanding of the Incarnation: the Word of God, enfleshed in Jesus Christ.
   2. Articulates an understanding of Christ’s life, death, and resurrection as the distinctive sign of Christian faith.
   3. Recognizes that through Jesus, God established a relationship of particular intimacy with us.

III. The Mystery of the Holy Spirit, the Loving Presence of God.
   1. Demonstrates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as being the Spirit of God who reveals God and makes Christ known to us.
   2. Articulates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as the one who awakens us to faith.
   3. Demonstrates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as the vibrant presence of God in the Church and the World.

IV. The Mystery of the Church, the People of God.
   1. Identifies the covenants revealed in the Scriptures as extending to all creation.
   2. Demonstrates an understanding of and an appreciation for active participation in a community of faith.
   3. Identifies the context of the Scriptures and their role in the development of the Church.
   4. Articulates the nature of Tradition and its role in the development of the Church.
   5. Articulates the nature of sacrament and sacramentality and its role in the development of the People of God.
   6. Illustrates a basic understanding of the documentary tradition of the universal, national, and local Church.
   7. Illustrates a basic understanding of the history of the Church.
V. God Teaches Us How to Live Out Our Salvation.
1. Demonstrates an understanding of the Paschal Mystery and the various ways we encounter it in daily living.
2. Demonstrates the ability to apply the commandment of love by making life decisions within the Christian moral framework.
3. Demonstrates the relationship between faith and culture as it is found in the arts, sciences, and technology.
4. Applies Catholic principles to interpersonal relationships as found in the family, the workplace, society and the Church.
5. Exercises responsible stewardship toward all creation.
6. Examines the variety of Christian lifestyles as ways of responding to the baptismal call to a life of service.

VI. God Invites Us into Relationship through Personal Prayer and through Community Worship.
1. Demonstrates an understanding of and an experience with different ways of relating to God in prayer on a personal level and in community.
2. Demonstrates the importance of Sacraments, with an emphasis on the centrality of the Eucharist, in the life of Catholics.
3. Demonstrates recognition of the sacredness of time through the celebration of the hours, the liturgical seasons and special feasts and days.

VII. God Calls Us to Love and Serve Our Neighbor.
1. Engages in activities that demonstrate an understanding of and personal witness to Christ’s command to love and serve one another.
2. Engages in service to the community in response to the Gospel call.
3. Critiques societal structures in the light of Catholic social justice principles and applies them to social and personal situations.
4. Acknowledges and affirms the diverse cultural expressions of Catholicism.
AGE-APPROPRIATE SKILLS FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD

I. The Mystery of God, Creator of All Things.
   1. Demonstrates an understanding of God as Creator of all things.
      ♦ Names God as maker of all elements of nature.
      ♦ Recognizes all creation as a gift of God's love.
      ♦ Recognizes self as gift of God's creation.
   2. Understands the human person as imaging God.
      ♦ Recognizes self as unique, lovable, and having personal worth.
      ♦ Recognizes and expresses personal feelings.
      ♦ Demonstrates the need for familial love and unity.
   3. Recognizes the inter-connectedness of humans with all creation.
      ♦ Recognizes how all created life is intended to live together.
      ♦ Practices kindness toward others, animals, and nature.
   4. Recognizes the call to continuing creation by further developing the Kingdom of God.
      ♦ Demonstrates personal ability to make choices for good.
      ♦ Develops a sense of belonging to many groups.
      ♦ Illustrates respect and care for one's environment.

II. The Mystery of Christ, the Incarnate Word of God.
   1. Articulates an understanding of the Incarnation: the Word of God, enfleshed in Jesus Christ.
      ♦ Identifies that God sent Jesus to God's people as a very special gift of love.
      ♦ Recognizes that Jesus was sent to show God's people how to love one another.
      ♦ Explains that Jesus first came to people as a baby in Bethlehem.
      ♦ Expresses that Jesus is God.
   2. Articulates an understanding of Christ's life, death, and resurrection as the distinctive sign of Christian faith.
      ♦ Identifies Jesus as the greatest teacher.
      ♦ Illustrates that Jesus gave His life for all people.
      ♦ States that Jesus brought new life and hope.
   3. Recognizes that through Jesus, God established a relationship of particular intimacy with us.
      ♦ Names Jesus as a model of how people are to love one another.
      ♦ Recognizes that Jesus loves children.
      ♦ States that God sent Jesus to God's people as a special gift.
III. The Mystery of the Holy Spirit, the Loving Presence of God.

1. Demonstrates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as being the Spirit of God who reveals God and makes Christ known to us.
   - Indicates the presence of God as like parents who are there but cannot always be seen.

2. Articulates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as the one who awakens us to faith.
   - Develops a sense of belonging to the church family.
   - Recognizes personal feelings about God.

3. Demonstrates an understanding of the Holy Spirit as the vibrant presence of God in the Church and the world.
   - Recognizes peace, joy and hope as signs of God's presence.

IV. The Mystery of the Church, the People of God.

1. Identifies the covenants revealed in the Scriptures as extending to all creation.
   - Recognizes that God loves all people.

2. Demonstrates an understanding of and an appreciation for active participation in a community of faith.
   - Recognizes the relationship of home and family activities to Church activities.
   - Recognizes self as a member of the family of God.

3. Identifies the context of the Scriptures and their role in the development of the Church.
   - Recognizes the Bible as a special book.
   - Recognizes that God does wonderful things for people.

4. Articulates the nature of Tradition and its role in the development of the Church.
   - Recognizes self as a member of the family of God.
   - Recites traditions in one's family of origin.

5. Articulates the nature of sacrament and sacramentality and its role in the development of the People of God.
   - Identifies basic signs.
   - Practices simple rituals.

6. Illustrates a basic understanding of the documentary tradition of the universal, national, and local Church.

7. Illustrates a basic understanding of the history of the Church.
   - Repeats stories of people in the history of the Church.
V. God Teaches Us How to Live Out Our Salvation.

1. Demonstrates an understanding of the Paschal Mystery and the various ways we encounter it in daily living.
   - States that Jesus brought new life and hope.
   - Identifies heaven as a place of happiness.

2. Demonstrates the ability to apply the commandment of love by making life decisions within the Christian moral framework.
   - Names ways of showing love and being loved.
   - Recognizes the need to express sorrow.

3. Demonstrates the relationship between faith and culture as it is found in the arts, sciences, and technology.
   - Practices self-expression through drama, art, song, and gesture.

4. Applies Catholic principles to interpersonal relationships as found in the family, the workplace, society and the Church.
   - Defines self through the experience of relationship.
   - Distinguishes types of relationships in one's experience.

5. Exercises responsible stewardship toward all creation.
   - Illustrates how to care for people, pets, plants, etc.

6. Examines the variety of Christian lifestyles as ways of responding to the baptismal call to a life of service.
   - Names vocations to service.
   - Identifies the ritual of baptism.

VI. God Invites Us into Relationship through Personal Prayer and through Community Worship.

1. Demonstrates an understanding of and an experience with different ways of relating to God in prayer on a personal level and in community.
   - Recognizes quiet as appropriate for prayer.
   - Recites various prayers.
   - Recognizes "talking to God" as prayer.

2. Demonstrates the importance of Sacraments, with an emphasis on the centrality of the Eucharist, in the life of Catholics.
   - Identifies bread as a common food.
   - Recognizes that celebrations involve food.
3. Demonstrates recognition of the sacredness of time through the celebration of the hours, the liturgical seasons and special feasts and days.
   ♦ Names special days and times in family and in Church.

VII. God Calls Us to Love and Serve Our Neighbor.
1. Engages in activities that demonstrate an understanding of and personal witness to Christ's command to love and serve one another.
   ♦ Recognizes and responds when another is hurting or needs help.
2. Engages in service to the community in response to the Gospel call.
   ♦ Practices simple acts of service.
3. Critiques societal structures in the light of Catholic social justice principles and applies them to social and personal situations.
   ♦ Names the importance of each person in one's family.
4. Acknowledges and affirms the diverse cultural expressions of Catholicism.
   ♦ Identifies children of various cultures and groups.
CATECHETICAL PROCESS

TASK

The aim of religious education is to make a person’s faith become “living, conscious, and active.” Because of the dignity of this pastoral activity, the way faith is nurtured to growth is vitally important. An authentic teaching-learning process is as important as accurate content. All catechists are strongly encouraged to utilize a process that focuses on the Mystery present here and now in all human life. This Mystery demands that, in every lesson, the divine dynamism found in each of our human experiences be considered. Therefore, to provide for maximum effectiveness of this task, the basic elements of the catechetical process, the catechetical method of shared praxis (T. Groome) and two basic approaches to planning, are outlined.

The basic elements of the catechetical process are:

- Personal Experience
- Scripture
- Tradition:
  Community’s Experience
  The Church’s Story
- Faith Sharing
  in the context of personal, parish, and world pastoral concerns
- Critical Reflection
- Response in Service
- Prayer

companions on the journey…
THE CATECHETICAL METHOD OF SHARED PRAXIS:

The method of shared praxis as evident in the Emmaus story is outlines as follows:

TWO BASIC APPROACHES TO PLANNING:

1. GOALS AND OBJECTIVES
   Planning for the religious education experience may be done by setting goals (what one wants to do) and by determining objectives (how the goals will be accomplished). Most textbook curricula are based on this approach.

2. OUTCOMES BASED EDUCATION
   Another method of planning for instruction is outcomes based education (OBE). The outcome or desired result is the measurable change in attitude, skill, or knowledge of the learner. This approach is being used statewide in Kentucky, prompted by the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA). This approach can have a positive impact on religious education, especially when questions are asked, such as “What are they learning?” “Why are they doing those things?” etc. For outcomes based religious education answers these questions from the beginning by determining first how the learner will be changed by this educational moment and how the teacher/facilitator will know the specific measurable outcome will be demonstrated by the learner. Textbooks become a resource tool to aid the teaching activities to accomplish the outcome.

The figure below shows the difference between the two types of planning.

PRAYERS AND CELEBRATIONS FOR THE YOUNG LEARNER

PROVIDE AN ATMOSPHERE THAT WILL ENCOURAGE THE CHILD’S EMERGING FAITH
♦ Establish a reverent, reflective atmosphere that invites the child to listen, wonder, relax, and reflect on the great love of God.

♦ Create space in the learning environment that is sacred space for prayer. Make this prayer area special by placing a candle, picture, plant and children’s Bible on a table.

♦ Plan experiences that will foster moments of quiet reflection and prayer within the range of the child's developmental capabilities.

♦ Encourage a relationship with God through prayer experiences and through prayer in the family setting. Encourage and assist parents to pray simple prayers with children and establish patterns of prayer.

♦ Provide materials for parents to use, such as books to read to children, ideas for simple rituals, and sample prayers.

DEVELOP A CAPACITY FOR SPONTANEOUS PRAYER
♦ Use a variety of prayer experiences—litanies, action prayers, rosary, signed prayers, sung prayers, quiet reflective prayers, processions. These experiences give the background necessary to participate in rituals and other practices of the Catholic Church.

♦ Use the Bible, show it to the child, hold it reverently, tell him/her that this book is about God’s love and our relationship with God. Do not read directly from the Bible. Tell the story in your own words. Let your love reveal God’s love.

PROVIDE THE CHILD WITH SACRAMENTAL AND PRAYER EXPERIENCES
♦ Expose the child to the natural signs of the sacraments of Baptism, Eucharist, and Reconciliation as a remote preparation for reception (e.g., expressions of sorrow and forgiveness, water, fire, bread, etc.).

♦ Celebrate birthdays as another natural rite of passage.

♦ Emphasize with parents that the ordinary activities of bathing, mealtimes, bedtimes, conflict and forgiveness lay the foundation for sacramental living.

E-21
INVOLVE THE CHILD IN COMMUNITY WORSHIP

♦ Provide opportunities for the young child to participate in processions and suitable services, carry the gifts, use the collection envelope, learn simple prayers, responses, and familiar songs. The child learns from the sounds, colors and movements of the people during liturgy.

♦ Provide opportunities for children’s Liturgy of the Word.
SACRAMENTAL PREPARATION

In these Religious Education Guidelines, sacramental preparation is not being considered as a separate category. Readiness for the reception of the sacraments should be determined by an individual's and/or an individual's family faith development and life experience rather than solely by the individual's age. Furthermore, at whatever age sacraments are received, catechesis is to be age appropriate.

The young learner is exposed to some basic concepts regarding family life as well as the natural signs of the sacraments of baptism, Eucharist, and reconciliation as a remote preparation for reception. Expressions of sorrow and forgiveness, water, fire, sharing of the table and community are to be experienced by the young learner.

In the church's tradition, we are a sacramental people in a sacramental church. At every age the sacramentality of life, as well as the sacraments, is explored through appropriate symbols, rituals and catechesis.
CONTEXTS FOR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Education in the faith, in Catholic traditions, and in values is lifelong and is to be done within the context of a faith community.

Options for religious education could include:

- Family Based Setting
- Family Centered Setting
- Intergenerational Setting
- Liturgical Catechesis
- Ungraded Groupings
- Classroom Setting
- Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults
- Youth Ministry Inclusive of Catechesis
- Faith Community Groups

Authentic religious education requires trained facilitators or leaders. Such options can meet the diverse needs found within the parish, regional or diocesan setting.

Care should be taken that the truths and traditions of the Catholic faith are handed on in a systematic, intentional manner. Implementing this recommendation may result in a variety of options operating simultaneously in a parish. To coordinate these efforts a catechetical leader needs to be designated.
